BLODGETT-GOODSPEED.

Marriage of Barre Man to Woman in Montgomery.

A quiet home wedding took place on Thursday morning, Sept. 7, when Dean W. Blodgett of Barre and Miss Amy O. Goodspeed were married at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. A. Goodspeed, in Montgomery. Rev. E. B. Holmes of Richmond officiated. Miss Elizabeth K. Fuller of Montgomery was maid of honor, and Wendell P. Hickie of Orange City, Fla., was best man. Miss Christine Currier of Cabot and Miss Dorothy Parker of Burlington furnished music for the occasion. Miss Parker rendered Liszt's "Liebestraum" and several appropriate selections, which were much enjoyed. Miss Currier sang "Gray Days" and "Promise Me" before the ceremony and also played several violin solos during the reception. A brief reception was held after the ceremony and a buffet lunch was served by Mrs. Don Richardson. Mrs. Addis Combs and Miss Mabel Parker.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett are graduates of Montpelier seminary and the bride was also graduated in piano from the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, in the class of 1913. Since that time she has taught in the West. After Oct. 1, Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett will be at home to their friends at 47 Park street, Barre.

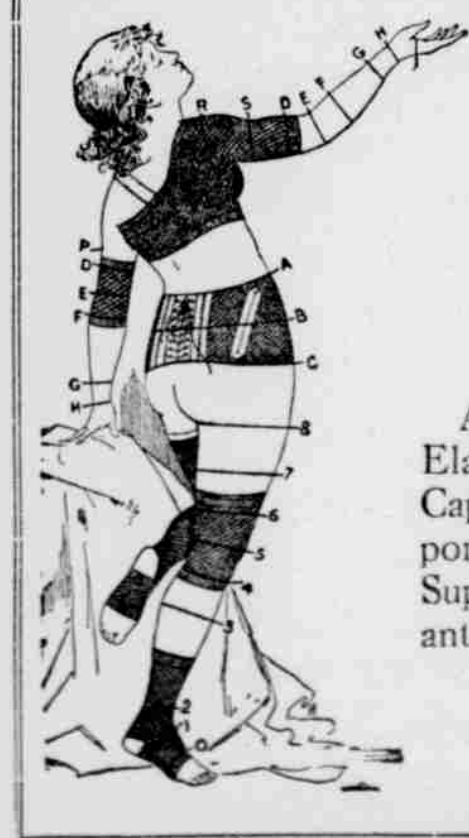

The Origin of Woman.

According to a Hindu legend this is the proper origin of woman: Twashti, the god of Vulcan, the Hindu mythology, created the world, but on his commencing to create woman he discovered that for man he had exhausted all his creative materials, and that not one solid element had been left. This, of course, greatly perplexed Twashti, and caused him to fall into a profound meditation. When he arose from it he proceeded as follows: He took:

The roundness of the moon.
The undulating curve of the serpent.
The graceful twist of the creeping plant.
The light shivering of the grass-blade and the slenderness of the willow.
The velvet of the flowers.
The lightness of the feather.
The gentle gaze of the doe.
The frolicsome of the dancing sunbeam.
The tears of the cloud.
The inconsistency of the wind.
The timidity of the hare.
The vanity of the peacock.
The hardness of the diamond.
The cruelty of the tiger.
The chill of the snow.
The cackling of the parrot.
The cooing of the turtle-dove.
All these he mixed together and formed a woman.

It Must Be a City Fad.

A country visitor to a big city contemplated with amusement the huge gilt sign displayed over the entrance to an institute on a prominent thoroughfare: Stammering Institute, Trial Lesson Free. "Upon my soul!" exclaimed the rural traveler, "if that don't beat all! I knew they taught most everything these days; but who the deuce wants to learn stammering!"

Postmaster Gorman of the local office has been notified not to sell any more stamps for taxes on documents and cosmetics. By the terms of the emergency revenue bill, one of the last measures passed by Congress, and which becomes effective Saturday, after receiving the President's signature, all stamp taxes now in effect are repealed and none are included in the new law. The largest proportion of those taxes are on promissory notes and various documents of legal and semi-legal nature. Therefore bankers especially wish to call the repeal of the stamp tax to the attention of persons who have been accustomed to stamp promissory notes, etc., before they were taken to the bank. This is no longer necessary under the new law.
